Simplify Your Mineral Program

Instead of calculating complicated mineral ratios, give your cows everything they need from their mineral program with 1 easy pack. Redmond Vita-Pac has their fortifications measured, balanced, and ready to add to total mixed rations.

Prevent Deficiencies

Lactating cows need extra minerals to make up for milk production. It is easier and safer to prevent mineral deficiencies than to try and correct them, especially during the lactation stage.

Boost Immunity

Protect your cows from diseases and health problems like milk fever (hypocalcemia), retained placenta, and ketosis. Increasing their calcium, selenium, other trace minerals, and vitamins are the best steps to guard against these health disorders.

Support Milk Production

Giving your cows extra mineral supplementation during lactation reduces the amount of calcium and other nutrients mobilized and drawn out of their body stores. Milk quality and production improve when their bodies have the building blocks they need to thrive.
